B. Reading (7 Marks)

3. Read the passage and then answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Dolphins have become a popular attraction at zoos in recent years. They are more and more interesting than lions and tigers because they are livelier and perform tricks like circus animals. But although they are more willing to cooperate with the trainer than other mammals in captivity, they get bored if they are asked to do the same trick twice. This is one reason for believing they are very intelligent.

Dolphins are regarded as the friendliest creatures in the sea and stories of them about helping drowning sailors have been common since the Romans. We now have more reliable evidences of their usefulness than sailors' tales. In South Africa, two dolphins have been trained to help swimmers in difficulties and drive sharks away from the beach.

The more we learn about dolphins, the more we realize that they are better organized and their society is more complex than people have previously imagined. They look after other dolphins when they are ill, care for pregnant mothers and protect the weak as we do.

Some scientists have suggested that dolphins have a language system which is similar to bats' one and man cannot hear. It is much more probable that they have an echo-location. Could any of these mammals be more intelligent than man? The question cannot be answered.

- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:

1. Most sharks are .....
  - a. man's friends
  - b. man's enemy
  - c. dolphins' friends

Sleep is very important for our health and safety. We should get enough sleep to let our brains work properly. Research has shown that sixty percent of adults suffer from sleep deprivation. If we don't sleep well for a long time, many negative things may happen. We may get sick because the body loses its ability to fight infections. Also, a lot of accidents can be caused because drivers have difficulty concentrating as a result of sleep deprivation. We need an average of eight hours of sleep at night. However, to get a good night's sleep, we need to set a specific bedtime and wake up time and make it a routine. Also, we shouldn't drink cola, tea or coffee during the day. We should stop eating, studying or watching TV in bed because bed is meant for sleep. Many studies have shown that a good night's sleep assists teaming process. Sleep helps you to learn information that you have come across during the day and allows the human brain to organise the day's memories. Sleep is an essential function that allows your body and mind to recharge, leaving you refreshed and alert when you wake up. Healthy sleep also helps the body remain healthy and stave off diseases. #### 3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

When you cut your skin, you bleed. Everyone knows that. If a person loses a great deal of blood, he will become ill and may die. At one time people drank blood to make them strong. When doctors understood how blood went around inside the body, they tried ways of giving blood to people who needed it. They used a rubber tube to take blood from healthy people and give it to people who needed it. This is called blood transfusion. The blood went through a rubber tube from the arm of the healthy person into the arm of the sick person.

But there were two problems. First it did not always work. Sometimes people died. Later, doctors found the reason for this. We do not all have the same kind of blood. There was another problem. To give blood of the right kind, the doctors had to find a person of the right blood group. Often they could not find a person in time. If they had a way to keep the blood until someone needed it, they could always have the right kind of blood. In the end, they found a way of keeping blood for a very long time. Now people can give or donate blood every three months, if they want to. The blood is put in bottles or special bags and then kept until someone needs it.

B: Reading

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Although modern technology has a lot of advantages and greatly contributes to modern civilization, it has some disadvantages. Obviously, videos and televisions are responsible for the declining interest in reading among the young. They do nothing to build up reading skills.

General Exams

If children's time is devoted to reading, most people would be better educated.

Reading a story is an active partnership between the writer and the reader. Ideas are sketched and the mind of the reader creates the rest. He tries to imagine how the story can end and thinks of possible solutions to the problems that the hero faces. But, watching something is totally passive because the director depicts the scenes and finds solutions to the problems according to his own attitudes. There is yet another problem.

Many children read very slowly. It is hardly surprising that such children declare that they find reading boring and prefer watching television. Their difficulty is not reading the words, but interpreting them. They need to be able to read fast enough to feed the mind's hunger for a story. Only by reading daily, a child will become a strong and independent reader.

Parents and teachers need to be convinced of the importance of preventing their children from wasting their time watching useless programs. Videos and televisions sometimes show violence films which may encourage children to be aggressive and behave badly while dealing with their mates. Recent researches proved that the television has many physical and mental dangers on children. Too much television can lead to problems with eyesight. Without videos and televisions, the child is likely to turn to books for entertainment and getting information.

2. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Have you ever been to a forest? Have you ever watched a documentary about wildlife? Forests of different kinds are rich in wildlife. There, you can see thousands of species of plants and animals. These plants and animals form one of the most complicated circles of life. Every single species plays a part in natural balance.

There are similarities between animals living in wide-open spaces. The lion is an animal that lives in open areas. The lion is the largest member in the family of cats. It lives in Africa. When it is angry or irritated by flies, the lion whips its tail around. The favourite food of the lion is raw meat. The lion gets its food from the animals it kills every day. It hunts at night but during the day, it lies in the shade of a tree. The lion kills only for food. The male always eats first. When it finishes, the rest of the family, the lioness and cubs, have their turn. The zebra also lives in wide-open spaces. Its enemy is the lions because lions like zebra meat. Both zebras and lions like to live in open areas where they can run and play. Water is very important for the zebra. Almost every day it goes to the waterhole where, its enemy, the lion, is sitting there waiting for it.

B: Reading

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Sadness means suffering in silence. Many people suffer because they have their heart broken, they have problems at work, they have had a fight with a person, they have lost something, or someone. Sadness is a state of mind that comes and goes as it pleases. Today we can be sad, tomorrow we can forget about yesterday. Life is about going through bad and good moments so it is normal to feel sad sometimes. Sadness can manifest itself through emotions like being angry, stressed out, nervous or just depressed. Depression is a more serious case of sadness. Depression means negative thoughts and lasts for much longer. Many people commit suicide because of depression so it's a dangerous disease that can be treated only through therapy.

Sadness and depression are two different things. Sadness is a state of mind that can pass very quickly once things become better and it's caused by grief, sorrow by things that don't go according to plan. Depression is deeper; it's longer and usually gives people suicidal thoughts. The number of people that kill themselves each year has increased over the years.

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (10 Marks)

When our parents were young, people could buy cigarettes and smoke pretty much anywhere, even in hospitals. There were advertisements for cigarettes all over the place. Today we're more aware about how bad smoking is for our health. Smoking is banned in almost all public places and cigarette companies are no longer allowed to advertise on TV, radio, and in many magazines.

Nearly all of us know that smoking causes cancer and heart diseases. Smoking can shorten your life by ten years or more. So how come people are still smoking? The answer, in a few words, is a bad habit. Smoking is a hard habit to break because tobacco contains nicotine. The body and mind quickly become so used to the nicotine in cigarettes that a person needs to have it just to feel normal.

People start this fatal habit for a variety of different reasons. Some think it looks nice. Others start because their family members or friends smoke. Studies about smoking show that about 9 out of 10 tobacco users start at a young age.

B. Reading

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Many animals are in danger today. For many of them, the biggest danger is humans. People have always killed animals for their meat and skins. Others are killed because they eat crops or animals which belong to farmers. Certain wild animals, such as tigers or elephants used to live in great numbers in countries like India. People have hunted them so much that there aren't many left alive. However, there are laws to stop this. In South America, many different birds and animals have lost their natural homes in the forest because thousands of trees have been cut down or burnt. We should save animals.

Some species of animals are now extinct because none of them are left. Others are only alive in zoos or special parks. People can care for animals and learn more about them in zoos.

Ecosystems are carefully balanced, with a hierarchy of prey and predators that keep populations in check. As species go extinct, they are taken out of the food chain. Animals that ate the newly-extinct species have to find new food sources or starve.

This can damage the populations of other plants or animals. Furthermore, if a predator goes extinct, its prey's population can proliferate, unbalancing local ecosystems.

3. Read the passage and then answer the questions: (7 Marks)

On a cold night a wealthy woman was lying in bed between wake and sleep. Suddenly the door of the room opened. She didn't move thinking one of her sons wanted something. To her surprise, she found herself face to face with a man holding a revolver in his hand. The woman didn't show any sign of fear. Instead, she said in a very loud voice, "Welcome. I think you are the man sent by Mr. Ahmed Sharaf to take the twenty thousand pounds. I'm pleased you've come, dear."

The man's eyes shone saying quickly, "Yes". It was the best chance he had ever dreamt of. The woman said much louder, "Then your name must be Kareem or Safwat or Nabil." The door opened and her sons came to see why their mother was calling them. Her sons caught the thief who was so stunned that he couldn't use his revolver. Then they phoned the police. In fact this wise woman proved that the use of mind is stronger than the use of power.

B: Reading

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Every reader of this passage must spend the whole of his waking life looking at things. Looking, is natural; we do it without noticing it.

Looking is passive - but seeing is active, and that is the explanation of the title "To look is not to see". Once you start seeing things, you really begin to wake up. People who see things which others have only looked at, draw conclusions from what they see and can add to man's knowledge and help progress. Someone recently discovered a place where metal had been worked continuously longer than anywhere else in England. He "saw" a wall in the Forest of Dean. Thousands of people must have looked at it without really seeing it, but this man noticed that among the usual stones of that place were bits and pieces of a different colour; they also felt different to the hand. A closer sight showed that these pieces had been left behind in the fires of ancient peoples who had melted rocks to get metals. Looking around, he found more and more information, until the history of what men had done at that place over tens of centuries was known. You don't have to go far to make similar discoveries once you really start seeing.

A. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:

B: Reading

3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

Most bees lead solitary lives. After females find suitable nests in soil or wood, they begin visiting flowers, making dozens of trips for pollen and nectar. Sugar from nectar provides flight fuel; for their trips to and from the nest. The proteins and amino acids in pollen are needed for the bees' young (larvae).

Females lay eggs in nest cells. The eggs hatch and the larvae eat the food placed for them. Over a period of weeks, they eat hungrily. The new adult generation may appear then or during the spring or summer of the coming year.

Solitary bees build their nests using mud, sand, stones and plant resins. Because of the materials they collect, they are often given many names as carpenter bees.

About 20% of the world's more than 20,000 species of bees are social. They live in colonies of hundreds to tens of thousands of individuals. Each colony has one queen who is the mother of the worker bees and a few males called drones.

The best-known social bee around the world is the honey bee. Honey bees are found worldwide. Honey bees communicate through a dance in which scout bees return to the nest and inform other bees about the distance and direction to a newly discovered flower patch.

B: Reading*3. Read the passage and the answer the questions: (7 Marks)

The art of academic writing is not easy to master. It's a formal skill, which requires precision and accuracy, and is perfected by continuous and dedicated practice. Academic writing is the skillful explosion and explanation of an argument, which the writer has carefully researched and developed over a sustainable period of time. It's a time-consuming activity and demands patience and perseverance. The joy of reading and sharing with others makes one's composed piece of argument incomparable.

Before beginning to write, the writer must ask himself a few questions: Why am I writing? What is it that I intend to share with others? What purpose will my writing serve? Have I read enough about the topic or theme about which I'm going to write? If one is hesitant to answer even one of the aforementioned questions, one better not write at all. Because academic writing is a serious activity, it makes one part of a shared community of readers and writers who wish to disseminate and learn from well-argued pieces of writing.

The structure of an argumentative essay should take the form of introduction, which should be about ten percent of the whole essay. It should function as the hook which draws the reader in and holds his attention. The body should include cogent and coherently linked paragraphs and the conclusion should re-state the argument and offer a substantial ending to the piece.

B Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: 7 marks

Everybody likes to feel that she or he is special. Sadly, many of us grow up believing that we're not special at all. We wish that we could be more attractive or better at sports. We wish we had more money or more beautiful clothes. Like the Tin Man, the Scarecrow, or the Cowardly Lion from The Wizard of Oz, we think we're not good enough just as we are. In the film, The Tin Man wishes he had a heart. The Scarecrow wishes that he had a brain, and the Lion wants courage. Eventually, each of them realizes that he already has what he wants. Nearly all parents want us to be the best we can be. They occasionally attempt to encourage us to do better by comparing us to others. They mean well, but the message we usually get is that we're not good enough. We start to believe that the only way we can be special is by being better than somebody else, but we are frequently disappointed. There will always be somebody out there that is better than we are at something. There are a lot of people around who may not be as intelligent as we are, but who are better at sports. Or they may not be as handsome, but they have more money. It is unthinkable for us to be better than everybody else all the time. Like the Tin Man, the Scarecrow, and the Cowardly Lion, we all need what we believe will make us better people. Our parents often forget to tell us that we are special, that we are good enough just as we are. Either way, it's up to us to remind them sometimes that each of us, in our own way, is special.

17. The writer wrote this text to ..... .
  - a explain the importance of being yourself
  - b suggest how people can change their way of life
  - c talk about your family problems
  - d describe how intelligent we are

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: 7 marks

Many people have jobs that are not very interesting, but a lot of people have to work at night, and this is very difficult. When everybody else is getting ready to go out, they have to go to work, and this puts a lot of psychological stress on them. It is also not very healthy because the human body is designed to be active in the day and to rest in the dark. If this cycle is reversed it can have a bad effect on a person's health. So, why do people do night shift? Nowadays many business have to offer a 24 hour service, like hotels, delivery companies, some supermarkets open all night and all day, call centres and hospitals. It is true that some people only need a few hours sleep at night but the majority need eight hours. Humans are most active in the middle of the day, and the time when they are least able to concentrate and be efficient is between 2am and 4 am. This is the worst time to drive or to do anything that needs concentration. The body finds it very difficult to adapt to the opposite cycle. Things are not likely to get better in the future because more and more business are working 24 hour cycles to keep in step with our 24 hour society.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: 7 marks

Everybody likes to feel that she or he is special. Sadly, many of us grow up believing that we're not special at all. We wish that we could be more attractive or better at sports. We wish we had more money or more beautiful clothes. Like the Tin Man, the Scarecrow, or the Cowardly Lion from The Wizard of Oz, we think we're not good enough just as we are. In the film, The Tin Man wishes he had a heart. The Scarecrow wishes that he had a brain, and the Lion wants courage. Eventually, each of them realizes that he already has what he wants. Nearly all parents want us to be the best we can be. They occasionally attempt to encourage us to do better by comparing us to others. They mean well, but the message we usually get is that we're not good enough. We start to believe that the only way we can be special is by being better than somebody else, but we are frequently disappointed. There will always be somebody out there that is better than we are at something. There are a lot of people around who may not be as intelligent as we are, but who are better at sports. Or they may not be as handsome, but they have more money. It is unthinkable for us to be better than everybody else all the time. Like the Tin Man, the Scarecrow, and the Cowardly Lion, we all need what we believe will make us better people. Our parents often forget to tell us that we are special, that we are good enough just as we are. Either way, it's up to us to remind them sometimes that each of us, in our own way, is special.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: 7 marks

Many people have jobs that are not very interesting, but a lot of people have to work at night, and this is very difficult. When everybody else is getting ready to go out, they have to go to work, and this puts a lot of psychological stress on them. It is also not very healthy because the human body is designed to be active in the day and to rest in the dark. If this cycle is reversed it can have a bad effect on a person's health. So, why do people do night shift? Nowadays many business have to offer a 24 hour service, like hotels, delivery companies, some supermarkets open all night and all day, call centres and hospitals. It is true that some people only need a few hours sleep at night but the majority need eight hours. Humans are most active in the middle of the day, and the time when they are least able to concentrate and be efficient is between 2am and 4 am. This is the worst time to drive or to do anything that needs concentration. The body finds it very difficult to adapt to the opposite cycle. Things are not likely to get better in the future because more and more business are working 24 hour cycles to keep in step with our 24 hour society.

3) Read the following passage then choose the correct answers:

Do you love plastic? People love plastic. They think it's great! You can see why. It is very adjustable: you can change its shape and it is very light. It is also very cheap. And it is attractive, you can have it in any color. But it causes many problems. Because it's cheap. people throw plastic things away. On top of this, a lot of packaging contains plastic. Parts of your McDonald's and packets of certain types of crisps are made from plastic. Why is this a problem? Well, it is homely; not nice to look at. However, one of the main problems is that the plastic is not biodegradable. It lives for many, many years. It's a particular problem in the seas and oceans. It breaks up into small pieces and marine life, from whales to smallest fish, eat this plastic particles. It is poisonous to them. Besides when humans eat fish and seafood, they are also ingesting these plastic particles. Bigger pieces of plastic, like bottles, can cause problems if larger fish, for example, dolphins, swallow them. They block up the dolphin's stomach and this can kill the dolphins.

3. Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Many people have jobs that are not very interesting, but a lot of people have to work at night, and this is very difficult. When everybody else is getting ready to go out, they have to go to work, and this puts a lot of psychological stress on them. It's also not very healthy because the human body is designed to be active in the day and to rest in the dark. If this cycle is changed, it can have a bad effect on a person's health. So, why do people do night shifts? Nowadays a lot of jobs have to offer a 24-hour service., like hotels, delivery companies, some supermarkets open all night and all day, call centers and hospitals. It's true that some people only need a few hours of sleeping at night but the majority need eight hours. Humans are most active in the middle of the day, and when they are least able to concentrate and be efficient is between 2 am and 4 am.

This is the worst time to drive, or to do anything that needs concentration. The body finds it very difficult to adapt to the opposite cycle. Things aren't likely to get better in the future because more businesses are working 24 hour cycles to keep in step with our 24-hour society.

Reading Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d :

With the development of modern civilization, life has become more and more complicated, As a result the car which was once considered a luxury, is now looked upon as a necessity ,Doctors ,engineers and businessmen cannot work without private cars. Moreover, the rapid growth of population in capitals and main cities has made the joy of possessing a car much less, Besides the problems of keeping a car in good condition and lack of garages , there is the big problem of crowded streets.

Moreover people insist on having car to avoid the long wait at the bus stop. To get on or off the bus is a hard struggle .Going to places by taxis doesn't solve the problem as taxi drivers take passengers according to rules ,They themselves set. they sometimes ask for more money than they deserve

Cars could be a source of troubles .Many people have to leave their cars in the streets because garages are expensive and crowded, this exposes them to rusting or robbery, in rush hours the streets are so blocked that it takes a driver's age to get to his destination

To conclude we can say that although modern technology has indeed brought numerous conveniences and advancement to our lives, but it has also introduced complexity

3-Read the following passage and then answer the questions:

Honeybees make buzzing sounds when they fly, but that is not the way how they communicate. Instead, they do some amazing things to tell other bees things they need to know.

Dancing is the instrumental way of communication between bees especially when needing to tell where to find flowers. When a bee locates those flowers, it returns to the hive and does a special "dance." For a bee, a dance means moving in a certain way as it crawls around. There are "round dances" that bees do when the flowers are close the hive. There are also "waggle dances," which the bees do when the flowers are farther away.

Bees' dances are not the only way a bee communicates. Bees also produce chemical called pheromones. If an animal like a bear approaches the beehive, the honeybees' bodies start to make these special chemicals. Other bees sense these pheromones and know that an animal is threatening the hive. They all start to fly out to try to sting the animal and scare it away.

3-Read the following passage and then answer the questions:

Adolescence is the time of life when a child is changing into an adult. The most obvious changes occur between the ages of 11 and 14 when young people mature both physically and mentally. Girls begin their growth suddenly between the ages of 10 and 12, about two years earlier than boys. Whereas girls reach their adult height by the age of 14, boys take until the age of 16 to get there. However, not everyone grows at the same speed. The rate of maturity differs according to a person's inherited tendencies, nutrition and environment.

Adolescence is often an annoying and challenging time in life. Teenagers are expected to learn to be independent, develop their own identity, understand what society expects of them and finish most of their education. This can cause stress, anxiety, depression and confusion among many young people. In adolescence, young people prefer the company and interests of their friends rather than adults. If they did not learn what is right and wrong as children, adolescents might make bad decisions about their behaviour.

3) Read the passage , then answer the questions :

Sadness means suffering in silence. Many people suffer because they have their heart broken, they have problems at work, they have had a fight with a person, they have lost something, or someone. Sadness is a state of mind that comes and goes as it pleases. Today we can be sad, tomorrow we can forget about yesterday. Life is about going through bad and good moments so it is normal to feel sad sometimes. Sadness can display itself through emotions like being angry, stressed out, nervous or just depressed.

Depression is a more serious case of sadness. Depression means negative thoughts and lasts for much longer. Many people commit suicide because of depression so it's a dangerous disease that can be treated only through therapy.

Sadness and depression are two different things. Sadness is a state of mind that can pass very quickly once things become better and it's caused by grief, sorrow by things that don't go according to plan.

Depression is deeper; it's longer and usually gives people suicidal thoughts. The number of people that kill themselves each year has increased over the years.

3. Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer: (7 Marks)

All of us should ask ourselves a question "Should we work all the time without having any rest or entertainment?" The answer is that we cannot go on working without stopping, from time to time and at regular intervals, to have some rest and recreation. If we do so, we can make mistakes and the quality of our work might get worse.

An overcrowded person may end up losing the ability to think clearly and having no energy to go on working. Sleep is one of the ways in which nature renews our energy.

Sports and games are also essential for brain workers who stay in closed offices and do not have a good chance to exercise their muscles. Such activities as swimming and walking may do a lot of good to them. So, we should not waste our weekends. They should be made full use of and spent in the open. Having forgotten all about our work and the worries of life, we can enjoy ourselves to the full and return the next day to work with our energy fully renewed. Changes has a magic effect on a man's health and consequently on his performance.

3. Read the following passage then answer the questions: ( 7 marks )

Sleep is very important for our health and safety. We should get enough sleep in order to let our brains work properly. Research has shown that sixty percent of adults suffer from sleep deprivation. If we don't sleep well for a long time, many negative things may happen. We may get sick because the body loses its ability to fight infections. Also, a lot of accidents can be caused because drivers have difficulty concentrating as a result of sleep deprivation. We need to ask a very important question. How much sleep should an individual have?

An average of eight hours of sleep a night gives our bodies good preparation for the next day. However, to get a good night's sleep, we need to set a specific bedtime and wake-up time and make it a routine. Also, we shouldn't drink many drinks which have caffeine such as cola, tea and coffee during the day in order to get a good night's rest. We should try to avoid eating, studying or even watching television in bed because bed is meant for sleep. We must know that sleeping is essential for our health.

Our bodies are like batteries. If we don't get sleep they can't be charged and we'll feel the effects. Getting sleep every day is important. When we sleep, our blood vessels and circulatory system heal themselves. If you have a bruise, you will notice that it has healed a little bit when you go to sleep and wake up in the morning. Sleep does the same thing for the rest of the body as well, and it is essential to allow your batteries to charge while you heal yourself.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions: (14 Marks)

My name is Sally. Last week, I had a very bad day. It was really a nightmare! I had a job interview one morning, but I forgot to set the alarm clock. I overslept and couldn't have a shower or breakfast. I went to our garage putting on my shoes and setting my hair at the same time. The car wouldn't start, and I was able to make it work at the third time I tried. The traffic was awful and I arrived at the parking garage 5 minutes before the interview. Luckily, I found a place to park my car, but a young man in a red Mercedes tried to take it. I cut him off and managed to put my car there and - of course - he didn't like it. He complained not in a nice way and I had to tell him what I think of people like him.

I was quarrelling with that foolish person when I slammed my finger in the car door. I was so nervous that I didn't notice the keys were still inside the car and locked it. I didn't have time to deal with it at the moment, so I rushed to arrive for the interview on time and guess who the interviewer was; the guy I met at the parking garage! I wish I hadn't got up that day.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Mr. Omar needed to fly from Cairo to New York. He was afraid of flying but the journey was important for his job so he bought a plane ticket. At the airport, he tried not to be nervous about his first flight. "I'm going to get on the plane, I'm going to go to sleep for a few hours and when I wake up I'm going to be in New York." The plane took off and after an hour in the air, there was a loud noise. Mr. Omar heard one of the flight attendants say to the other, "Oh no! That sounds really bad."

Mr. Omar called the flight attendant over and asked, "Is everything going to be OK?" "Oh, don't worry about a thing, sir. Everything is going to be just fine. We're going to arrive a little later in New York. Just fasten your seatbelt and go back to sleep." Mr. Omar tried to go back to sleep again but only ten minutes later, there was screaming and shouting from other passengers as they pointed out of the window. "The engines are on fire! We're going to crash! We're all going to die!" The pilot opened the door of the cockpit and told the passengers to keep calm. He was smiling and his voice was relaxed, so Mr. Omar felt a little better. The pilot walked to the emergency exit of the plane and took some packages from under a seat. He gave some to the flight attendants and took one for himself. Mr. Omar was now very worried and so he asked an attendant, "Excuse me, but are those packages parachutes? You said we had nothing to worry about!" "No, sir. Don't worry about a thing. We're going to get some help."

3- Read the following passage, then answer the questions: ( 7 M )

"No smoking" is the written advice we read in public and closed places and public means of transport. "Give up smoking: if you don't smoke, don't smoke, don't start." This is a valuable piece of advice we often receive from the majority of doctors. The smokers themselves often say the same to those young people who haven't started smoking yet.

Smoking represents a fearful enemy to man's health as it destroys health and causes suffering and death. Smoking is one of the basic factors in the development of some serious illnesses that can cause you many health problems and bring about heart diseases. Doctors have proved that the smoker's lungs, throat and respiratory system are often attacked by cancer. They assert that cigarette smokers have a higher death rate than those who don't smoke.

Accordingly, smoking is banned in cinemas, theatres and all closed places. In some other places, there are rooms allotted for smoking just to protect the non-smokers from its dangers. But this is all in vain as it will never protect the non-smokers, who are, by any measure, considered helpless victims as they still inhale poisonous gas, ash and nicotine. They receive much more harm than the smokers themselves.

3- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:

1- The underlined word "bring about" in the second paragraph means .....

- a) cause                      b) harm                      c) end                      d) stop

2- ----- is a substance in cigarettes that makes it difficult to stop smoking

- a) Vain                      b) Cancer                      c) Health                      d) Nicotine

3- Smokers have to stop smoking in order to .....

- a) inhale poisonous gas                      b) avoid public places                      c) keep healthy                      d) avoid closed places

4- Doctors advise those who don't smoke .....

- a) not to start smoking                      b) to start smoking                      c) to stop smoking                      d) to live in closed places

5- According to the passage, a helpless victim is the person who .....

- a) refuses to stop smoking                      b) doesn't smoke                      c) has stopped smoking                      d) has started smoking

6- The main idea of the passage is .....

- a) Smoking is harmful to some smokers                      b) Smoking is bad for non-smokers only
c) Smoking should be banned in the cinema                      d) All people should avoid smoking

7- Which sentence can best describe the first paragraph?

- a) too much smoking is harmful                      b) If you aren't a smoker, you shouldn't start smoking
c) Stop smoking on public means of transport                      d) Don't smoke in closed places

1. Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

With the development of modern civilization, life has become more and more complicated. As a result, the car, which was once considered a luxury, is now looked upon as a necessity. Doctors, engineers and businessmen cannot work without private cars. Moreover, the rapid growth of population in capitals and main cities has actually made the joy of possessing a car much less. Besides the problems of keeping a car in good condition and the lack of garages, there is the big problem of crowded streets. Most people insist on having a private car to avoid the long wait at a bus stop. To get on or off the bus is a hard struggle. Going to places by taxi does not solve the problem as taxi drivers take passengers according to rules they themselves set. They sometimes ask for more money than they deserve. Cars could be a source of trouble. Many people have to leave their cars in the streets because garages are expensive and crowded. This exposes them to rusting or robbery. In rush hours streets are so blocked that it takes a driver age to get to his destination.

3. Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

A space station is a spacecraft that circles the earth constantly. For an astronaut it is like a home in space. They can live there for many months. Although we all have adventurous ideas about space, living in a space station is far from easy. One of the problems that astronauts have to face in space is the problem of weightlessness. Not only do the things around the astronaut float, but also the astronaut spends all of his or her time floating in midair. The food eaten by astronauts is sticky, so it sticks to their spoons. A lot of the food is also dehydrated and placed in special packing. This way the astronaut may not receive taste sensation given by normal food but definitely receives the same amount of required nutrients.

The astronauts in a space station work hard. They study the effects of weightlessness on themselves and in plants and animals. They are also able to alert people on earth of natural disasters such as earthquakes and hurricanes before they happen. In this way scientists on earth can take special precautions. Space Exploration becomes a new era for human with the universe. During the time that has passed since the launching of the first artificial satellite in 1957, astronauts have traveled to the moon, probes have explored the solar system, and instruments in space have discovered thousands of planets around other stars.

3- Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Honeybees make buzzing sounds when they fly, but that is not the way how they communicate. Instead, they do some amazing things to tell other bees things they need to know.

Dancing is the instrumental way of communication between bees especially when needing to tell where to find flowers. When a bee locates those flowers, it returns to the hive and does a special "dance". For a bee, a dance means moving in a certain way as it crawls around. There are "round dances" that bees do when the flowers are close to the hive. There are also "waggle dances", which the bees do when the flowers are farther away.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:( 7 ) m

Mount Kilimanjaro is the highest mountain in Africa. Marcus was one of a group of climbers who decided to climb it to raise money for charity. This is his account of the final part of the climb. I wake up after two hours' fitful sleep. I am unable to eat anything. Everyone looks frightened. My head is aching. I feel dizzy, outside of the hut it is black. It is just after midnight. Snow is falling. It is freezing. The hard climb and effects of altitude have made everyone look tired. The group climbs silently through deep snow. The altitude is playing tricks on my mind. I try to concentrate. All I can do is to watch my feet and count to ten all the time. People around me are just standing still as they try to get their breath. I try to encourage them to keep walking. My friend looks at me hopelessly. I lose all sense of time and distance. When I check my watch I see, with surprise, that I have been walking for three hours already. I feel as if I am fighting every step of the way. All I want to do is turn round and go down, but I must reach the top! I begin to wonder if I am strong enough. My head is thumping. Each step I take makes me more and more dizzy, I begin to see spots in front of my eyes. My breathing is very rapid. Someone tells me we have another hour and a half to go. I have to concentrate really hard, because one slip could be fatal. I gasp for breath. Then I see Gilman's Peak up ahead of me. Someone at the top is telling me to make one last effort. I am aware of the sun beginning to rise above the clouds. I scramble up the last few meters and suddenly I realize I've done it! I'm there! I'm at the top of Africa!

3) Read the following passage, then choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:

Once Wealth and Poverty approached a merchant and introduced themselves as visitors. The merchant offered his salutations to both of them and said: "May I know what brings you to my shop?" Wealth said: "We want you to judge and tell us who is more beautiful between us two?" The merchant was in a fix. If he were to declare wealth as more beautiful than poverty, poverty would curse him. If he were to declare poverty as more beautiful, than wealth, wealth would forsake him. However, he regained his composure and said: "I have great respect for you both. Would you please act according to my instructions? Then only I can judge properly." The visitors agreed. He said: "Mother wealth, would you please go to the entrance (gates) and wall: into the house? Mother, poverty! Would you please walk from here towards the gates? I can have a good look at you both, from near and far." The two visitors did walk as the merchant wished them to. Then the merchant happily declared: "Mother wealth! You appear very beautiful when you enter the house. Mother poverty! You look very beautiful when you leave the house!" The visitors appreciated the wisdom of the merchant. Wealth happily stayed in his house while poverty cheerfully walked away. When a serious problem faces us, if we look within and think calmly, a ray of hope and light will appear and show us the way.
